

More than just legal disclaimer.

- Enables centralized, parameter-driven e-mail signatures.
- Automatically adds company information and legal disclaimer to outgoing e-mails.
- Reduces risk of corporate liability.
- Automatically integrates sender information from user directories into outgoing e-mails.
- Enables time-based and rule-based use of boilerplate text, e.g. for marketing communications.
- Central administration through a common user interface.
- Runs on nearly all operating systems supported by the mail platform.
- Sender-/recipient-specific integration of trailers.
- Multilingual trailers for different recipients.
- Legal assurance through common liability disclaimer.
- Central integration of user information from the central e-mail address book.
- Trailer can work with ready-made text signatures for consistent Corporate Design implementation.

